

A PBFA Fair
with the support of the Ephemera Society
Sponsored by TL Dallas

BOOK, PAPER & PRINT FAIR

EPHEMERA
ARTWORK
POSTCARDS
PRINTS

FOLKESTONE
THE GRAND

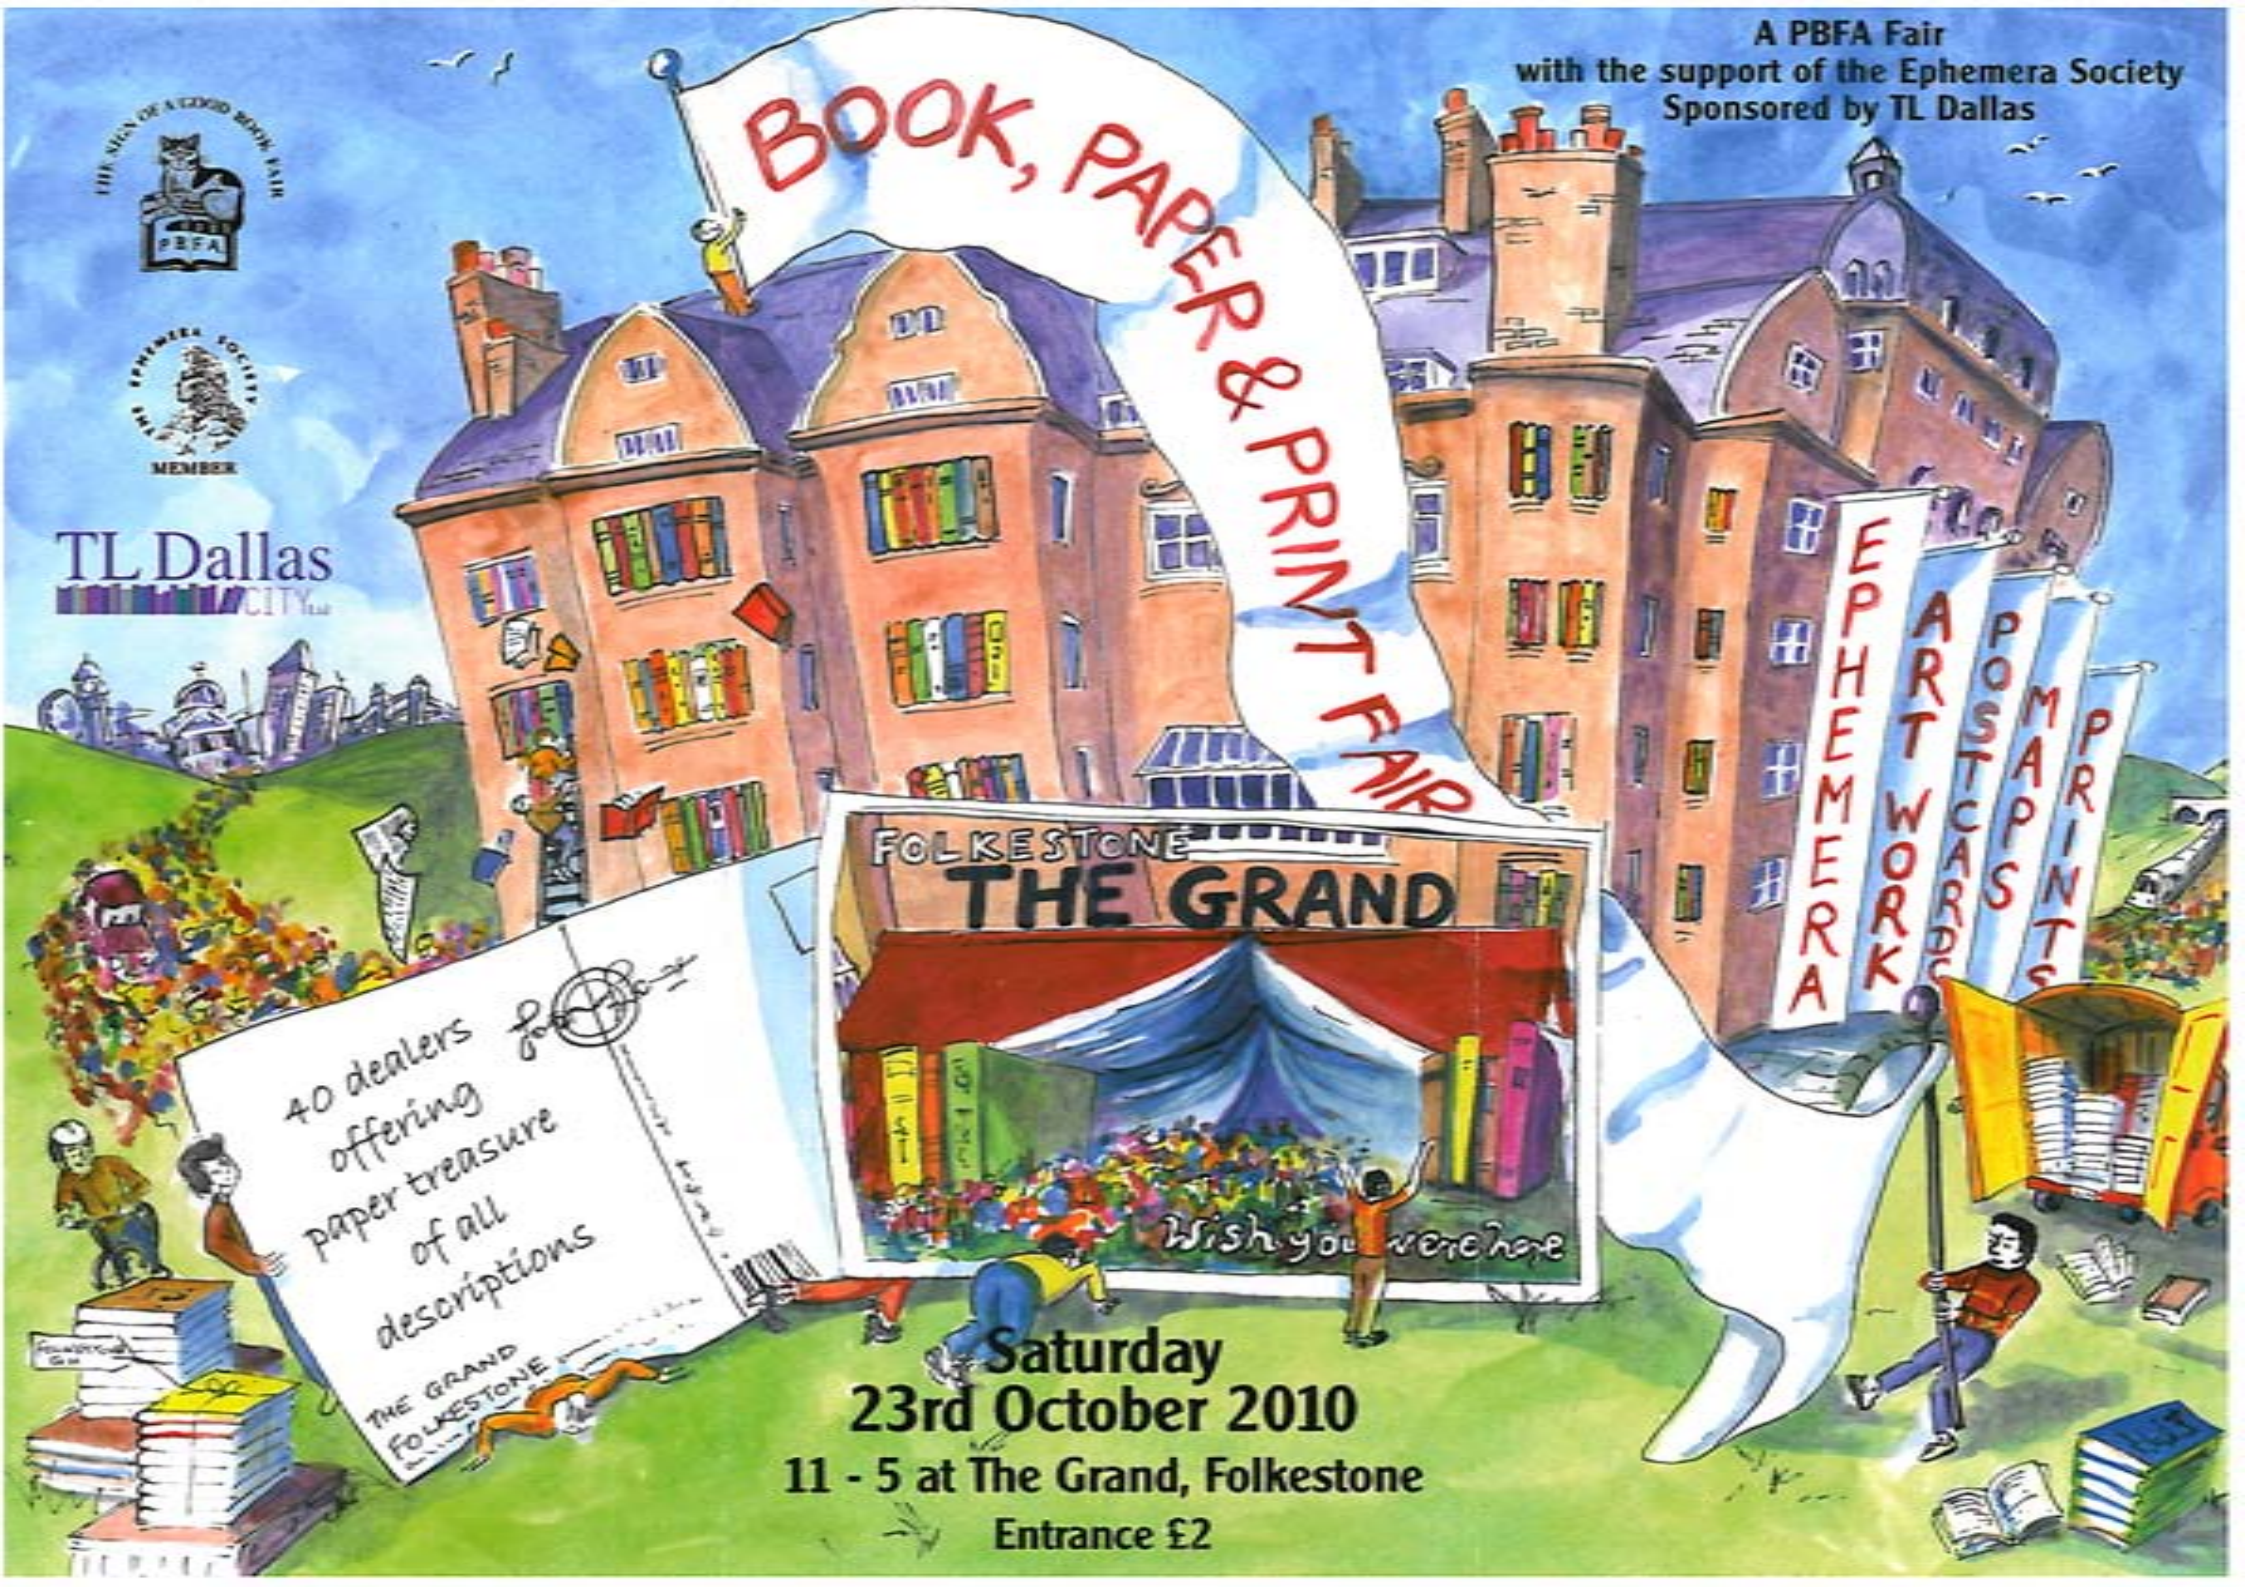

40 dealers offering
paper treasure
of all descriptions

Wish you were here

Saturday
23rd October 2010
11 - 5 at The Grand, Folkestone
Entrance £2

TL Dallas
CITY

The Provincial Booksellers Fairs Association has been organising book fairs since 1974. All members abide by a strict code of conduct and offer expertise and specialist knowledge. Every week there is a PBFA fair somewhere in the UK ranging from the small & local to Premier two day events.

Log on to www.pbfa.org for details

Established in 1975 The Ephemera Society is a non-profit body concerned with the collection, preservation, study and educational uses of hand-written and printed ephemera. The term 'ephemera' covers a wide range of documents; everything from hand bills & tickets to trade cards & newspapers. The society counts among its members libraries, museums & universities, as well as dealers and private individuals in twenty or more countries. More information at www.ephemera-society.org.uk

Our sponsor TL Dallas is one of the leading independent commercial insurance broker groups in the UK. The company has strong links to the book trade and private collectors. The PBFA gratefully acknowledges their support for the fair.

More information at www.tldallas.com

IMPORTANT NOTICES

The best bookshop in the world comes to Folkestone for one day! And not just books. If your interest is in ephemera, autographs, postcards, prints, posters, artwork, maps or photographs you'll find a wonderful selection of all kinds of works on paper at The Grand on Saturday October 23rd 2010. 40 of the top dealers in their fields from around the UK will be offering printed books & manuscript material, painted or drawn works on paper. Be prepared to come looking for a postcard and leave with a poster! You might fancy a Victorian valentine but be smitten by a saucy sketch! We promise you a magical treasure house - and at prices to suit every collector's pocket!

The fair is run by the PBFA with the support of the Ephemera Society and the sponsorship of TL Dallas insurance.

The fair manager Tony Mulholland can be contacted on 01797 260 240 or mulhollandt@aol.com or through the PBFA office at info@pbfa.org

Many celebrities have passed through The Grand since it was built just over 100 years ago. King Edward VII was an early visitor with the queen and his 'intimate friend', Alice Keppel. The actors Robert Morley and Michael Caine made their debuts here, and even Agatha Christie took a suite. Sitting on what has been described as the finest marine promenade in the world, The Grand lives up to its name and the PBFA is delighted to stage the first Folkestone, Book, Paper & Print Collector's Fair in its elegant surroundings.

Getting to Folkestone. Folkestone has excellent transport links, direct to London via the M20 and by rail the new high speed line (London to Folkestone around 1 hour). Getting here is as easy from France and the Continent via the Channel Tunnel.

