NEWSLETTER

First the good news – 21 of the ‘missing’ works have been found thanks to Duncan Brannan Arts Officer at KCC. We are delighted and we’ll now have more than enough works for a major show. Sadly we weren’t successful in our bid for an Arts Council grant – however we will keep on trying. Meantime we need your support more than ever.

“HELP we need somebody” as the Beatles sang. We are short of volunteer help for the exhibition, particularly manning the opening hours. Please ring Anne Charlier on 01303 266653 or email jim.charlier@btinternet.com who will be pleased to offer you a slot.

The Palm Court section of the exhibition will house ‘Then & Now’ in which we’ll show recent work alongside works from the Collection by Aldous Eveleigh, David Holt and Euphemia McTavish, forming an insight into their artistic development.

Euphemia McTavish will talk on Printmaking at 7.00pm on Tuesday 13 October at The Grand. She currently teaches printmaking at Christ Church University and is an internationally known print artist, particularly influenced by her knowledge of Egypt.

Brian Oxley will conduct a Walkabout Tour of the main exhibition at 3pm on Wednesday 21 October. He is well known locally as both an artist and an enthusiastic teacher with an in depth knowledge of the art of this period.

Both events are free to members – non members £1.

Your invitation to the Private View forms part of this letter – please detach – note the earlier time.

Stephen Perry Photographic Exhibition

Round the World from Folkestone

23 November to 05 December
Palm Court, The Grand

Private View 6-8pm 23 November

Stephen is a well known Kensington-based photographer who has worked on advertising campaigns for major car firms and fashion magazines. This exhibition however concentrates on his love of landscape – ranging from Nepal to Folkestone.

View his work at www.stephenperry.com

Stephen greatly aided the Friends by photographing much of the Collection so we are doubly pleased to be associated with this show.

Formal invitations will be sent to Friends during October.
